

Vancouver Women's Health Collective

Orientation Evening

The Vancouver Women's Health Collective will be holding an Orientation Evening to acquaint women who are interested in working at the collective with various aspects of the work we do.

If you want to work in our Resource Centre; become a diaphragm or cervical cap fitter; do research in a health area that interests you, or participate in a health discussion group then find out how at the orientation.

Sunday September 30 7-10 p.m.
Britannia Community Centre,
Family Room.

If you are unable to attend yet would like to become involved or if you need childcare call 736-6696.
