

Cancer in Two Voices

by Sandra Butler and Barbara Rosenblum

Talk and Booklaunching by Sandra Butler

"With poignancy and power, the authors of Cancer in Two Voices transform the sorrow of cancer into a celebration of life that every woman can use. This book is a call for courage in the face of calamity. For love in the face of it all."

-Evelyn White

The Black Women's Health Book

SANDRA BUTLER is a writer, counsellor, trainer and organizer in the field of child sexual assault and violence against women. Her pioneering work Conspiracy of Silence: The Trauma of Incest stands as a classic reference.

BARBARA ROSENBLUM was a creative sociologist, taught at Stanford University and Vermont College. After a passionate career as a writer and teacher, Barbara died of breast cancer at age 44.

Saturday, October 5th, 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Justice Institute - 4180 W. 4th Ave.

Tickets $10-$12 - Refreshments Provided

Tickets available at:

Vancouver Women's Bookstore

Ariel Books

The Vancouver Women's Health Collective

for more information, call 255-8284

Benefit for the Vancouver Women's Health Collective