Just for YOUTH

If you are a youth under the age of 19 in BC, you can access services by seeing your doctor or school counselor.

Drug use among teens is complex. Teens who use are doing much different drugs than their parents did. Stronger pot, and new drugs like Ecstasy and other party drugs make "experimenting", far more dangerous than it ever was for your parents.

If you are at the end of your rope, and need help, there are options.

Talk to an adult you trust or phone one of these numbers.

Methadone Program

In order to get on the methadone program, you must see a doctor that is authorized to prescribe methadone.

You can go to your family doctor and he/she can refer you to a methadone doctor.

Or try calling 1-800-663-1441 and they may be able to direct you to a methadone doctor in your area.
