

Call for help at Woodward's squat
by fennel • Friday September 20, 2002 at 03:10 AM

Squatters at the Woodward's building in downtown Vancouver are asking for help in their building efforts.

A call has gone out for assistance at the Woodward's building starting Sept. 20, as building plans go into motion. Please bring tools, paint, painting equipment, drywall, wood, dust masks... a shop vac is needed to help deal with dust... people with skills and anyone else who wants to help are invited to come down and join in the building effort as the occupiers work to make the Woodward's building an accommodating space.

Come out and show your support for this crucial action.
