Thanks very much. I had already come across the material at Vancouver IMC and am happy to be able to use it. I will, too. I will have to check (in the morning) regarding the availability of the production studio before I can nail down an exact time for the interview. I can say with certainty that it will be sometime after 4pm Vancouver time tomorrow, if you would be so kind as to set up something tentative with Mr. Drury. Thank you very much for your help. As you are probably aware, we have had some major problems here today around the same issues (poverty and homelessness) and it will be great to tie everything together and make some important connections. I will contact you by email again tomorrow to nail down an exact time.

Thanks again,
Ron Anicich
